

Hand dryer stainless steel automatic

Hand dryer automatic stainless steel, M03ACS (Mediflow)

A perfect combination of the right accessories, gives your washroom the character that suits your business. During the design of the Mediclinics-line that combination of the various accessories is already taken into account. All the products in the line, therefore, link up with each other perfectly. If you choose stainless steel, you know that you choose robust. The sturdy material makes this hand dryer at once a fascinating accent for your washroom. The bottom of the hand dryer has several outlets, so that the air is distributed over a relatively large surface. That way the dryer requires only half a minute to fully carry out its work.
