

Hand towel dispenser

Stainless steel/ABS hand towel dispenser, PQXMidiH

You do not want hands of your visitors going up and down in order to dry them after visiting the toilet, because there are no tissues left. Therefore, you want a well-stocked towel dispenser with plenty of storage. A towel dispenser should, of course, be very practical. But that should not undermine the design. The PlastiQline Exclusive features the unique combination of modern design and practical use. The square stainless steel front has especially been provided with rounded corners. This prevents nasty accidents and guarantees your guests a completely safe use. Do you want to prevent your guests having to dry their hands in the air?
